

Arc LED Display

The arc-shaped LED is an innovative shape display, which attracts more attention by its arc shape. According to the size of the arc, it's divided into general curve led display and column-shaped display.

It's mainly used at commercial streets, the Shopping Center, distributed advertising and so on, so it has special requirements of the effect of various angles, shape structures, anti- electromagnetic interference

